1. Objectives and Purpose of the Call for Proposals
The overall purpose of this call for proposals is to provide grants to women and young women’s civil society organizations in Ukraine and Moldova that focus on promoting socio-economic recovery, leadership and political participation of women and young women in forced displacement (e.g. refugees, internally displaced people, asylum seekers) in crisis and humanitarian contexts.

The call for proposals specifically contributes to WPHF’s Impact Area 6 of improved socio-economic recovery and political participation of women and young women in forced displacement, with the overall goal of contributing to peaceful and gender equal societies, and aligned to UN Resolution 1325 on women, peace and security.

This Call for Proposals is part of funding on Forced Displacement that is managed by the Women’s Peace and Humanitarian Fund (WPHF) and linked to Germany’s Action Network on Forced Displacement. Please see Section 9 for more information about the Women’s Peace and Humanitarian Fund and the Action Network for Forced Displacement.

2. Country Context Linked to Call for Proposals
On 24 February 2022, the Russian government launched a war against Ukraine. In the space of just two weeks, more than 2.5 million refugees, a large majority being women and children, have been forced to flee Ukraine, with an additional 1.85 million people that have been displaced internally within the country.² As of May 2022, more than 6.5 million refugee movements have been recorded out of Ukraine. Some 8 million people have been displaced internally within Ukraine and some 13 million people are estimated to be stranded in affected areas or unable to leave due to heightened security risks, destruction of bridges and roads, as well as lack of resources or information on where to find safety and accommodation.³ The 2022 war in Ukraine is having a significant human rights and humanitarian impact on the civilian population, particularly on the lives and livelihoods of women and girls – a pattern in all violent conflicts.

The Republic of Moldova has provided safe haven to more than 400,000 refugees, numbers increasing each day.⁴ Civil society, and particularly women’s organizations, are in the front-line to deliver immediate humanitarian assistance to women and girls refugees. There is a need to support those organizations in their work. Besides, women and girls refugees are facing multiple human rights violations, notably those affected by intersectional forms of discrimination. Women and girls are also particularly at risk of sexual

About the Women’s Peace and Humanitarian Fund (WPHF)

The WPHF is a global pooled funding mechanism which aims to stimulate a significant increase in financing for women’s participation, leadership, and empowerment in peace and security processes and humanitarian response. The WPHF is a flexible and rapid financing mechanism. It supports quality interventions designed to enhance the capacity of local women to prevent conflict, respond to crises and emergencies, and seize key peacebuilding opportunities. The overall goal of the WPHF’s theory of change is to contribute to peaceful and gender equal societies. Achievement of this goal will require that women are empowered to participate in, contribute to, and benefit from conflict prevention, crisis response, peacebuilding, and recovery. Since its launch in 2016, WPHF has been supporting over 600 civil society organizations and is present in 27 countries or group of countries.

The WPHF is governed by a Funding Board at the global level, which is comprised of four UN entities (currently UN Women, UNHCR, UNFPA and PBSO), four donor Member States (currently Norway, Germany, Sweden and Australia), as well as 4 Civil Society Organizations (currently Feminist Humanitarian Network, Kvinna till Kvinna, Action Aid and Women’s Refugee Commission). A Regional Steering Committee will select projects from the list of proposals shortlisted following the project evaluations by WPHF.

About the Action Network on Forced Displacement

The Action Network on Forced Displacement – Women as Agents of Change was established in October 2020 by Germany’s Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ). It aims to increase the visibility of women and girls by giving them a voice as actors in situations of forced displacement and strengthening their rights as well as their economic and social participation. The Action Network brings together women and girls as well as men and boys who are actively engaged with displaced women and girls. This includes decision-makers from political, economic and social spheres, activists, and displaced women and girls themselves who are implementing projects in crisis and conflict settings. The Action Network aims to identify effective good practices for strengthening women’s leadership and economic participation and improving psychosocial health of displaced women and girls. Members of the Action Network convene regularly to discuss good practices and develop recommendations for policymakers, civil society and local actors to inform policy processes.

Appendix 1: Suggested priority topics for projects under WPHF Impact area 6

This list of suggested topics for projects is based on priorities identified by the members of the Action Network on Forced Displacement. The list is non-exhaustive, and grantees are encouraged to make additional suggestions that are in line with the objectives of this Call for Proposals.
